

The Brandon Mail.

THURSDAY, MAY, 31st., 1894.

WHERE IS THE WRONG?

A few weeks ago the following paragraph appeared in the Mail, which appears to be very obvious to the North West Review (Roman Catholic organ) of Winnipeg:

"Now what the public would like to be advised on is wherein the Manitoba school act interferes with the civil and religious rights and privileges of the Roman Catholics, and in what faith with them, or disturbs their religious persuasion."

Our neighbor begins his argument in condemnation of this by calling the Mail "stupid." We take it, however, that stupidity, or rather the will to call another stupid, is determined more or less by the color of the glasses worn by the commentator. Those of our friend being green, the word in that connection comes very easy. In condemnation of this paragraph our editor renews the promise of Martin, Greenway & Co. to the Roman Catholics in the Province of Quebec, and that celebrated visit to the Archbishop in quest of a Cabinet Minister, the subsequent acts of the Martin-Greenway party and winds up by asking how the Mail would like it if the Roman Catholic majority of Quebec were to make the pledges to the minority of that province that Martin and Greenway made to the Roman Catholics of Manitoba, and then wipe out the Protestant schools of Quebec and establish Roman Catholic schools in their stead.

In the first place the Mail has always contended the cause taken by Martin and Greenway on this school question is one of the most disgraceful blots in the history of Canadian parliamentary records. It was a course that no politician who had the slightest respect for his public record would have taken. What Greenway and Martin should have done at the time, instead of making the promises they made, was to tell the people from the start they intended to wipe out Separate schools; and if, with such representations, they were fortunate enough to get into office, submit the matter to the electors before a general election for their pleasure on the proposition, instead of taking advantage of popular credulity secured through falsehood, deception and fraud.

In comparing the situation with that in Quebec, however, our confere falls into a very fatal mistake, as the situation in the two provinces is in no respect similar. In Quebec, Separate schools were given the Protestants by Act of parliament before the province entered confederation and they cannot therefore be abolished by any act of any Canadian parliament. The British North American Act—an Imperial measure—would have to be changed before even the Dominion Parliament could interfere with them. The Privy Council on the other hand says that as no Separate schools were in force in Manitoba, drawing government aid either by law or by practice, before Manitoba entered confederation, the provincial government had full power to abolish the only act under which they existed—one of its own creation. If a stupid paper like the Mail sees the difference, an intelligent print like the North West Review ought not to attempt to prove they are analogous. But our neighbor would go even further. It asserts that the schools of Manitoba are Protestant, and if Quebec were to treat its minority as Manitoba has done, it would, in the comparison, force Roman Catholic schools on the Protestants of Quebec. We are free to admit the schools of Manitoba are not thoroughly secularized, and it is the bounden duty of the Local Legislature to see that the secularization is made complete. The Roman Catholics of the province will not be treated fairly till it is done. At the same time we may add very few Protestants in Quebec would object if national schools there were no more Catholic than they are here Protestant. What the Review wants, however, is state aided schools in which religious and secular branches are taught together, which is contrary to the best interests of Manitoba or any other province. It makes the burden too heavy for the benefits received.

IS IT SO?

The Brandon correspondent of the Winnipeg Tribune says: "It is hardly likely the Patrons will bring out a candidate of their own, but quite likely they and the Liberals will agree upon the nomination of a single candidate." We have all along had much sympathy for the Patrons, as we felt the restrictions of the tariff were bearing unjustly upon their calling; but if a coalition with the Grits for party purposes is the chief end of their existence they must expect to lose strength and prestige in every quarter. As an organization they have no right to co-operate with any political party for a party end. If they have a man in their own ranks they consider fully capable of looking after their interests they should take him up and fight their battles with him. If they are not disposed to do this they should stand in abeyance until all the candidates that are likely to stand in the constituency are announced and have declared themselves upon the issues of the day, and from the several declarations make a selection. In such a step they would free themselves fully from the taint of suspicion. There are men identified with conservatives in Manitoba to-day who would vote the government out of office on the tariff issues as readily as any Grit would do it, and who are on principle as committed to other valuable reforms in the country's interest as either Grits or Patrons can possibly be, and if the Patrons are to ignore such men because they are not Liberals then the people want to know it. Some of these conservatives too, while pulling down have a theory at hand for rebuilding, which the Grits have not, and surely the Patrons as an organization cannot desire the country to understand they are in the same boat. No; we sincerely hope the Patrons will take some other course than that suggested by the correspondent of our Winnipeg confere.

An investigation is now being held in connection with the Northern Pacific R. R. and its affairs, and the evidence adduced should have more than a passing interest for the friends of Mr. Greenway in this country. The evidence shows that the Manitoba system when completed by the promoters proper was sold to the N.P.R. proper, for $5,200,000 of consolidated 3% bonds. These again the promoters sold at 82 cents cash, or for a total of $4,264,000 cash. The road cost them but $2,000,000 of which the province paid $635,000 leaving $1,369,000 to be put up by them against the $4,264,000. This shows they made a clear $2,917,200 cash out of their dealings with Martin, Greenway & Co. What do the electors think of this bit of financing? Do they not think the company could well afford to give Martin a slice of the $500 a mile for electors?

At the time of the North West rebellion, the Hon. Mr. Laurier said if he was living on the banks of the Saskatchewan he would shoulder his musket on behalf of the rebels, and now the Grits of Saskatchewan have nominated him as stand and bearer for the Commons. Further comment on the loyalty of western Gritism is unnecessary.

Dairying.

One of the travelling dairies in charge of Mr. Roddick (the gentleman who made Canada's big cheese) gave a lecture on Tuesday last in the city hall on the above subject. Mr. Roddick was accompanied by an assistant and Mr. Herbeson who will have charge of the local dairy work. Mr. Scott who is the agent of the De La Val cream separator was also present. Mr. Roddick had with him all the latest improved machinery and appliances for dairying, amongst them a Babcock separator.

Quite a number of the principal farmers in the neighbourhood of Brandon were present and many of them were accompanied by their wives. Mr. Green, of the Farmers' Advocate, and Mr. Waugh, of the North West Farmer, Winnipeg, were present.

It was proposed and carried that Mr. Roddick take the chair.

Mr. Roddick, Mr. Chairman Ladies & Gentlemen, I should like to correct one statement of your's chairman, and that is that we are not trying experiment, but are using the most improved machinery and what is supposed to be the best process. We do not recommend any particular line of machinery. Mr. Roddick here explained the Alexander centrifugal steam separator and stated that the force used to separate the cream was enormous, 300 revolutions in a minute.

In order to get the best results to Mr. Roddick put into operation the Alexander cream separator, and in a short time separated a large amount of cream from the milk.

He then described the use of the Babcock separator which is to test the amount of fat in a given quantity of milk.

Mr. Roddick then explained the use of several other articles and also acids which were necessary in butter making.

In the afternoon a large number of ladies were in attendance as well as most of the prominent farmers of the city. Mr. Roddick apologized for being rather late in opening the afternoon session, but said, as it was their full lecture it had taken some time to get things together, they would commence by churning some cream brought in by Mr. Leach. The churn must also be well scalded out previous to using and it is always necessary to have it wet before putting the cream into it. The cream should pass through a strainer previous to going into the churn so that all lumps etc., shall be eradicated from it, the strainer was here shown which contained quite a quantity of hard thick matter which would not have made butter. The cream we are churning to-day is at a temperature of 54°.

Separator cream is generally churned at a temperature of 50 or 52 degrees. There is a great difference in thermometers they should be of glass and easily cleaned. The old fashioned thermometer was the finger thermometer, would be tested. In speaking about the length of time to churn a box or barrel churn should not take more than 30 or 40 minutes and this length of time makes the best butter, temperature has a great deal to do with butter making high temperature makes butter soft, the thicker the cream the sooner it churns, the dash churn is not to be condemned, but I do not think it is equal to the box or barrel. Mr. Roddick made a few remarks on his experience of butter making and spoke highly of the dash churn. He hoped these new experiments would prove to the farmers that they were the best to adopt, still to think that these were experiments. This was not so, it had been adopted by all the best creameries and dairies in the world. It was not his wish to enter into an agreement as to which system was the best. It had been fully established, that the separator principle was in every way the best.

Mr. Leach sent, "Have you ever known cream to foam, Mr. Roddick? If cream has been kept at a low temperature it is liable to get rosey and will then foam. I wish to say a word or two on salt. Salt for butter making purposes should be prepared specially and should be carefully stirred as it very easily absorbs any flavour. It is therefore necessary to always purchase the best ashland English salt is very good and it is sold at $1.10 per 56 lb. bag.

In answer to a lady Mr. Roddick said, it was always best to separate milk at the same night, but if kept till morning it would be best to warm the milk.

But being strictly was caused by being badly mixed. Butter should not be worked by the hands because the temperature of the hands hurts it, it should always be pressed.

At this stage the butter was shown which had taken 40 minutes to churn owing possibly to the temperature. It would not be long at all by the length of time it had taken to churn, in fact, it would probably improve it. You may have noticed, said Mr. Roddick, that he gave the churn four or five fast turns at the last, this is done to avoid allowing the butter to get into one large lump. Always after churning put in as cool water as you can get from a well, and fill your churn with as much water as you had cream. Wash butter till the water comes away clean. Mr. Taylor, the gentleman, who is with me and made the butter, has had several years experience at the Experimental Farm, Ottawa, under the most experienced butter makers in Canada.

The highest colored butter comes from the Guernsey cow, and the next the Jersey. In making butter for the English market it does not require to be highly colored. No harm is done by coloring butter. Last winter I was in charge of 3 dairies of the Dominion government and we sent to British Columbia 40,000 lbs. of butter. This passed right by your doors, and on this butter we paid 6 cents per lb. freight.

Some gentlemen remarked we would pay the same freight to Vancouver.

Mr. Scott, of the De La Val separator and the gentleman who will, with Mr. Herbeson, take charge of local dairy work stated that there was a special rate for butter and from Winnipeg, it was $1.75 per hundred to Victoria without ice, $1.95 with ice.

Mr. Roddick showed a paper wrapper which he said was non-odoriferous and a very excellent article, making the butter packages look very neat and clean.

A barrel churn could be filled half full of cream. Butter should be worked twice, it should stand for three hours between the first and second working, so as to allow the salt to thoroughly penetrate the butter.

In answer to a question by Mr. Bellford, Mr. Roddick stated that a creamery should be established with less than 500 cows within a radius of 8 or ten miles.

The meeting in the evening, under the auspices of the Board of Trade, did not take place, owing to the train by which Prof. Robertson was to arrive being delayed.

ALAMEDA.

ALAMEDA, May 21.—The Alameda Base Ball Club has re-organized with Mr. John Lilly as Captain and have begun their practice. They are getting into good form as they expect to meet with some of the neighboring boys in the field.

The first brush of the whisky war at Oxbow last resulted in a victory for the no license party. On Monday the 21st, the License Commissioners for District No. 1 met at Oxbow for the transaction of business, no hearing applicants for license for the retail of spirituous liquors for the ensuing year. Licenses were granted to Kelly, of Estevan, and Williams, of Cammington.

The application of Thompson, of the Oxbow hotel, was refused, notwithstanding it bore the name of a clergyman, there being a contra petition presented by ten of the next householders to the premises for which the license was asked. The above action may appear as a hardship on Mr. Thompson, as he holds a lease of the Oxbow hotel for five years, only one year having been run, at a rental of $1,000 per annum. That he has been able to pay that amount, together with $200 for license goes to show that the liquor traffic, in going as it least, constitutes two-thirds of the cash capital of this district. That the action of the commissioners in this matter is right and just can be shown from other points also. The non license settlers are much pleased while the advocates of the license system are predicting all sorts of disaster now that the bar at the Bow is closed.

Mr. Ellwood appeared for the license party, while Rev. Mr. Scott took charge of the contra petition. In this case the Church defeated the Bar.

On Thursday last as No. 230 steamed past Alameda, the engine and train were tastefully decorated with Union Jacks and evergreen in honor of the birthday of our gracious Queen, which was observed as a holiday.

In the evening the attraction was at Oxbow, Sam Fox giving a concert under the auspices of the Foresters, and having a full house. On the following evening Mr. Fox kindly gave a benefit in aid of the building fund of the Presbyterian church at Oxbow.

Sunday 13th was the warmest of the season the thermometer reaching 74; the week following was windy and cold. However it is warm now and the Mosquitoes are out in full force.

Prof. Robinson, the Dominion Government Dairy expert left for London, Ont., yesterday morning.

The Patrons of Industry were in session yesterday afternoon, and a meeting open to the public took place in Workmen's Hall in the evening at 8 p.m.

Owing to a heavy land slide in the mountains the trains from the west have been delayed. On Monday last it was only a local from Mooseman that came in.

It is not true that there was a big row at the Crook on Sunday, or in fact any at the past week. Two men got into a war of words, and that is all there is of it.

It was reported yesterday that another large land slide took place in the mountains and that the chances are against any train coming in from the coast for a week.

One would think, to look at Capt. Clark, in the "Private Secretary" the other night, he was a country editor from the way he was dunned. Our remarks, by the way, that he is not a very good kisser.

The tight rope walking of Professor Richards attracted a good deal of attention at the race course. He also gave a very creditable exhibition on a rope stretched across Rosser, from the Royal Hotel to the top of McGregor's stable.

At a special meeting of the city council held Friday last, a by-law was passed for a bonus in favor of Mr. J. J. Schertz for $6,000, should he erect a flour mill of 30 barrels a day capacity. The by-law will be submitted to the ratepayers shortly.

A family friend.—No family should be without Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain-Killer. It can be given to the infant for the colic and the adult for Rheumatism. There is scarcely a disease to which it may not be beneficially applied. It contains no deleterious drug, but may be used for the various ailments of mankind. Get the big 25c. bottle.

Arrangements are now being made by the energetic members of the L.O.G.F. to billet and entertain about 150 of their brethren from different parts of the province, who will attend a convention to be held in this city on the 5th, 6th and 7th of June. Among the delegates is a gentleman from Boston, Mass., who is a most indefatigable worker for the temperance cause.

A Neepawa newspaper says, "we were treated to maple syrup the other day." Yes, a newspaper stuck into a syrup barrel would be a nice spectacle. The most of educated journalists consider "We" the newspaper only, but the country publishers of Manitoba interpret "we" to mean the editor as an individual separated from the newspaper altogether.

Charley Simon's colt, Prairie Flower, which won the race here and beat the Manitoba colt record, was bred by Frank Russell, who owns the dam, Mand D., which showed her ability to trot here last year as green mare in 2:42, is now sent to Winnipeg to be bred to Dorsey's Little Bourbonese, son of Bourbon Wilkes, and should produce another flyer.

The "Private Secretary" rendered last week by the local dramatic society was well patronized. It is for the most part a two-man play. In his part Mr. Atcherley did as well as any professional could have done. Dr. McInnes, lacks concealment of voice, but in his acting he was a complete success. Capt. Clark, Mr. Milson and Miss Lee sustained their parts well, as did also the others but their work was very light.

Mr. Anson Cartwright, of Souris, spent a few days in the city the past week.

The special meetings of the council held on Monday and Tuesday last considered the advisability of exempting from taxation the mill owned by Alexander, Kelly & Co., for a period of ten years in consideration of their making it a 200 barrel a day mill and doing gristing at 12 1/2 cents a bushel and chopping at 8c per 100 lbs. The bylaw was read a first and second time, and will be submitted to the public on June 22, at the same time as the bylaw re Schertz.

The public will learn with deep regret of the drowning of Mr. F. Mulvey, son of Stuart Mulvey, of Winnipeg, in the Red at Winnipeg on Saturday last. He and a comrade were out in a canoe together, and it upset. The comrade clung to the canoe and was rescued. Mr. Mulvey attempted to swim to shore, but though he was a good swimmer, sank before he reached it, and never rose again alive. The young man had but recently commenced the practice of law, and was therefore ruthlessly cut down in the early years of a promising life.

The members of the Brandon Cricket Club met at the Langham hotel Saturday night last, when the following officers were elected:

President J. N. Kirchhoff
Vice-President G. R. Colwell
Hon. Members Hon. T. M. Day, Hon. Clifford Sifton, Hon. Judge Walker, Judge Cumberland, Mayor McInnes, Sec. Treas. H. Milson

Committee—A. Jukes, E. A. Leeson, Smith, Webb, Brown, R. G. Macdonald, E. J. McLennan, A. H. Clarke.

Sim Fax Concert Company.

The merit of the Sim Fax Concert Co. is a subject much debated in the city. Sim has a high degree of the dramatic, but he appears to be lazy, repeating here many of the songs he gave on a former visit. Miss Stephenson has a rich musical voice and sings a fine sentimental song, but she cannot put life into a character piece. Miss Ward did not attempt any high class piano music so what her auditors are not was shown. The pieces she rendered were plain melodies, but these she rendered well. Mr. Ward in his pianissimo efforts on the violin showed to advantage, but no matter what his culture may be, he cannot satisfy a criticising audience as a vocalist.

School Board.

On Wednesday evening last a special meeting of the school board was held. Present: J. A. Christie, chairman; Maltby, Hanbury, Lang and McLeod.

Tenders were opened for fencing west ward school, and for leveling, sodding, grading, repaving and rearing sidewalks at central school.

Dr. Macdonald's resignation was received and accepted.

NOTICES.

Lang-McLeod.—That property committee be instructed to proceed at once with putting in the sewer, etc.

Lang-McLeod.—That the following be accepted, work to be proceeded with at once:—Paving, grading $125; Sterrett, sidewalk $140; McGregor, west ward fence $80.

McLeod.—That chairman of property committee be instructed to interview W. H. Sailingway and obtain from him an explanation as to how Wells & Co.'s contract for waterworks connection was certified to by him, and have him again inspect and report at next meeting.

On motion board adjourned.

Glenallen.

This settlement is situated on the western slope of the Riding Mountains, about 30 miles north of Neepawa. The country around is well adapted for some branches of farming, water and hay being abundant and wood being so plentiful that most of the houses are built of logs. One remarkable thing about the district, something well worthy of consideration by intending settlers, is that some of the farms are altogether unknown here.

There is no church building in the settlement as yet, but a weekly service is held in the school during the summer months.

The attendance at school on week days is satisfactory. The school last year was and is again this year presided over by a Brandon Academician. It would make the hearts of some city children jump to see the sick little ponies, which some of the youngsters here drive daily to and from school.

Despite the prevailing hard times several new houses have been built this spring.

The mosquitoes have already put in an appearance and the first few really warm days will doubtless fully awaken these pests up for their season's work.

Presbytery Meeting.

An adjourned meeting of Brandon Presbytery was held in Carberry on the 22nd inst. Members present: Messrs. Hall and Wm. Logan, elders.

The principal items of business was the consideration of Mr. McLeod's resignation of the pastoral charge of Carberry. Although the congregation had been duly called to appear at the interests, no representatives were appointed to oppose the resignation, partly owing to some misapprehension of their privilege in the matter.

Mr. Logan, Presbytery elder for Carberry congregation and other members of the congregation were present, and Mr. McLeod's reasons for pressing his resignation carefully considered. These were briefly his inability to work harmoniously with certain members of the session, whose life and conduct he considered unworthy of their position, and the alleged dissatisfaction with his services existing among part of the congregation. No formal charges were made by minister or people. The Presbytery however decided to accept Mr. McLeod's resignation and Mr. H. W. Fraser was appointed to preach at Carberry on the second Sabbath of June and declare the pulpit vacant.
